Program Notes

Elective credits can be used to complete prerequisites for LEP requirements (math, English, world language) and prerequisites for graduate school. For students interested in allied health graduate programs such as physical therapy, occupational therapy, physician assistant, and chiropractic, the Exercise & Sport Science faculty can advise your course selection to include typical prerequisite coursework for those graduate programs. For courses in which an option is provided, if the student wishes to take the lesser-credit courses, an elective course can be added to the planned program to bring the course total to 120. For more information regarding academic requirements, including the Liberal Education Program (LEP), please visit the program page at http://catalog.southernct.edu. Any questions about academic requirements should be directed to an advisor.
